GINA CORENA. —

Thriving in a male dominated industry is no small feat. Being an entrepreneur in that same industry is even more difficult; but succeeding in it, is near impossible. Gina Corena and Associates bases its practice on customer service and believes that it's not about the quantity of cases; it's about clients' lives and quality results. With this mission, the firm has tripled its size in the State of Nevada in the last two years. Sometimes if you want to win a game, you have to change it.
