"SHE ALWAYS KNEW THAT HER WILL TO IMPROVE
PEOPLE'S LIVES WAS NOT JUST A DESIRE, BUT CODED IN HER DNA."

In hindsight, it's no surprise that Gina Corena finds herself delicately balancing the demands of life and career; she is the daughter of two physicians who worked tirelessly not only in flourishing careers, but also to give her a foundation that fed ambition and an understanding of humanity. At a tender age she came to the United States to study and found herself drawn to the study of law. She always knew that her will to improve people's lives was not just a desire, but coded in her DNA.

She fought hard through the ranks of insurance companies, worked for corporate firms and ultimately decided to maximize the positive impact on her community opening her own firm. From humble beginnings, a small office with three desks in a corner, to the prestigious legal district in Downtown Las Vegas, Corena Law tripled its size in just two years.

Working for people who have suffered life-changing injuries to get them back to health and happiness while holding those liable accountable, may be in her blood, but it's also her mission.
